Introduction

Lingnan University, Hong Kong and University of Oxford, the United Kingdom will co-host the Postgraduate Summer School 2024. Participants joining the Postgraduate Summer School programme will stay one week at Lingnan University, and a selective number of them will go to University of Oxford for two-week stay in enhancing their learning experience. In collaboration with leading institutions in Asia and the UK, the Summer School provides a platform for scholars and research postgraduate students to present their major research findings, share research practices and reflect upon essential methodological issues.

Highlights

- To exchange with international scholars from leading institutions in Asia and the UK.
- To explore multiple research methods for conducting research through tailor-made workshops both at Lingnan University and University of Oxford.
- To strengthen language proficiency and writing skills to facilitate effective communication and interaction in academic and social contexts.
- To engage in intriguing sharing of research practices with finest academics and postgraduate students from different universities.
- To explore possibilities to develop research clusters for promoting research collaborations and international publications.
- To know about Hong Kong and Oxford via fascinating site visits.
